Discussion of the governance assessment vote started long ago – read and join in!

Recently formed groups are sometimes the easiest to get involved with – also check the committee ads weekly!

Lots of different kinds of things show up here.

AAPM

Volunteer Handbook

AAPM relies heavily on the volunteer efforts of its members to accomplish its scientific, educational, and professional missions. Without you, and other professionals like you, who are willing to devote their time and energy to the advancement of medical physics, AAPM would not be able to achieve its goals effectively. Your contribution is greatly appreciated. We hope you will continue to be a participant in the activities of AAPM in the future. Your experience, expertise, and vision represent vital assets to the medical physics profession. AAPM Headquarters is ready and able to serve you in your volunteer position and has produced this Volunteer Handbook as a guide to explain the information that you will need to know during your service.

Additionally, every year at the Annual Meeting, Michael Woodward gives a General Chair Orientation. The orientation is geared towards new Chairs, or those who want a refresher on the capabilities of the AAPM Information Services. If you missed this presentation, not to worry, we've recorded 2015's talk. View the Streaming \(Audio & Visual\) Presentation »

Selective process, can be hard to get started – attend committee members, become a guest, volunteer. When you apply, include your resume/CV and state why you think you could be useful on the committee.

If you served on AAPM committees before 1994.

If you served on committees for other, related organizations.

Selective process, similar to committee selection.

Selective process, but maybe easier to be elected.
