

Dear Recent Grad,
Congratulations! You have completed your graduate course work! The future is bright and you have many decisions that lie ahead.
Good luck choosing the path that's right for you.

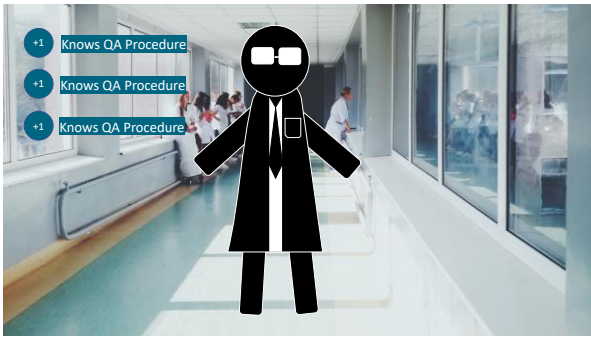

"Don't keep forever on the public road, going only where others have gone."
— Alexander Graham Bell

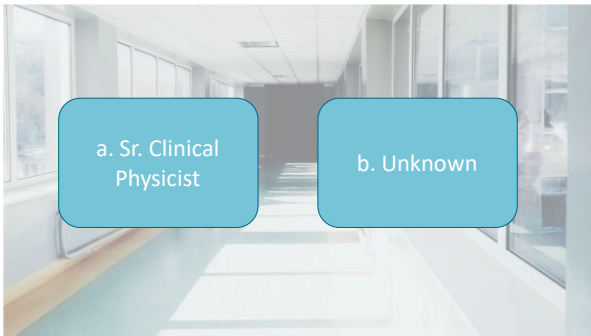

What next?

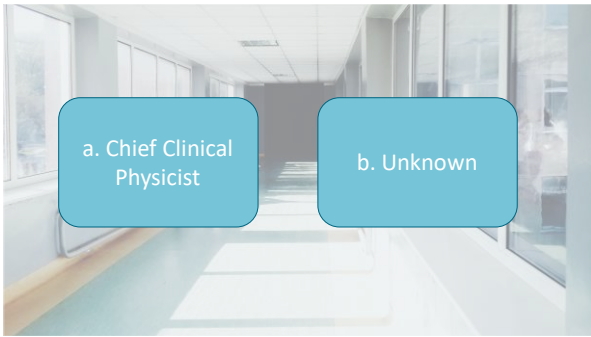

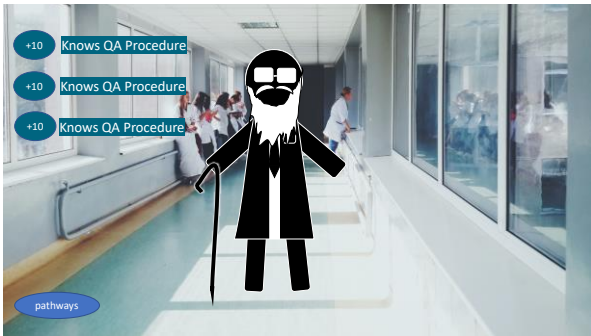

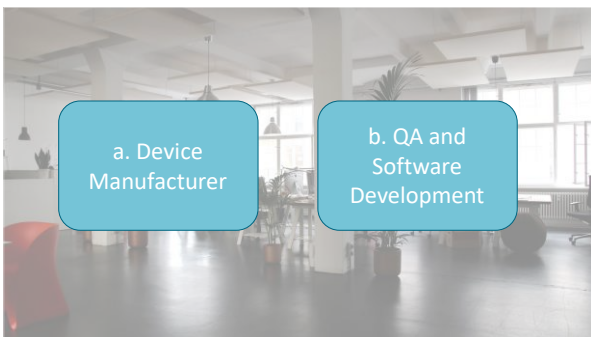

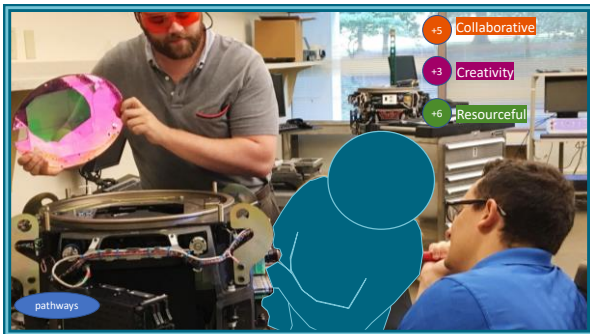

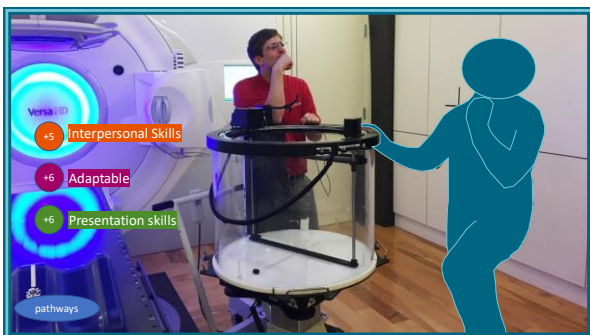

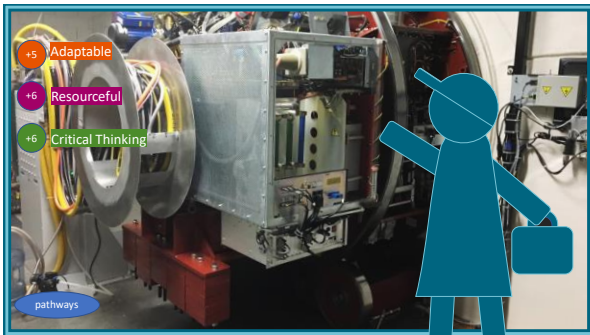

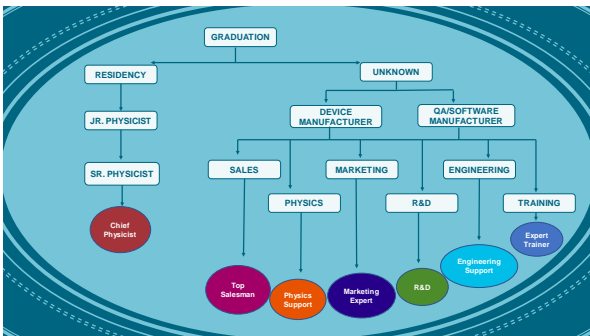

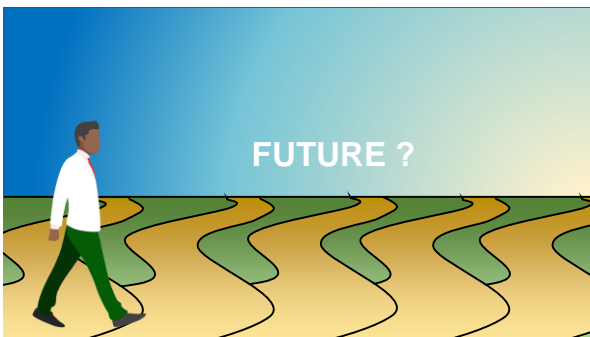

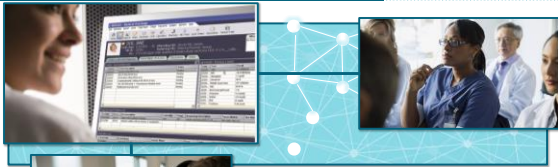

The technology created in industry connects every single clinic. Vendors rely on the clinical experiences from individual sites or groups to improve these technologies.

22 | Focus where it matters.

In this way, we can transcend the barriers between sites to improve treatments for a single patient – bringing our focus to where it matters.

23 | Focus where it matters.
