

Medical Physics 2.0

Mahadevappa Mahesh, MS, PhD, FAAPM, FACR, FACMP, FSCCT.

Associate Professor of Radiology and Cardiology
 Johns Hopkins School of Medicine
 Chief Physicist – Johns Hopkins Hospital
 Baltimore, MD

56th Annual Meeting of AAPM, July 20-24, 2014, Austin, TX
 Contact Info: email - mmahesh@jhmi.edu Phone: 410-955-5115 (O)

What does Medical Physics 2.0 means to me?

What does Medical Physics 2.0 means to me?

- Increase medical physicists profile in clinics
- Not confine to QA measurements only
- Spending time with clinicians to understand their language

What we can do?

- Communication
- Familiarity
- Developing Trust
- Taking on responsibility that may increase workload in short term but is beneficial in long run
- 'Talk the Talk' and 'Walk the Walk!'
